HOME RULE FOR IRELAND SAID

(Special from United Press.) BOSTON MERCHANTS LOSE BY RAILROAD STRIKE

(Special from United Press.) Boston, July 29-Boston merchants report that at least 50 cities and towns in Vermont and New Hampshire, whose supply depends upon local markets, have been cut off from their fruit and provision and that Boston men have already lost thousands of dollars by reason of the present strike on the Grand Trunk Railway. The dealers are seeking every way possible to ease the situation.

Fruit and provision merchants are particularly harrassed by the refusal of the Grand Trunk to accept for transportation any perishable goods.

J. E. Lawrence of the Charles Lawrence Company, wholesale fruit and provision dealers, said today that his loss to date by reason of the strike is more than $500, and that the amount lost by the 40 other big fruit and provision dealers would amount to many thousands of dollars.

The Mill-End Wind-up;

Never such chances for real economy as in this Wind-up.

Never such a collection of Mill End lots selling at even less than Mill End prices.

Never such enjoyment in spending money—for money buys more in merchandise during this Wind-up than ever it has before in this section.

Everywhere in the store are the Wind-up lots. All sorts of wares are included in them. Each sort bears a price that is almostshamefully low.

We set out to out-do all the Wind-ups of all the Mill End sales that have been held. We are going to do it. That was plainly to be seen as this was written. And we have so many and so big and and so good Wind-up lots that everybody may count on an enjoyable shopping-day Saturday.
